TIPS TO OPTIMIZE SAFETY OF INJECTING DRUGS

- ✓ Snort instead of using injecting needles
- ✓ Clean hands with soap and water, clean the injection site, and clean the area of preparation
- ✓ Always use a new clean needle and syringe instead of re-using
- ✓ Use clean cookers and cotton filters and do not share them
- ✓ Use sterile water (or boil water for 10 minutes)
- ✓ Never lick the needle
- ✓ Avoid using the neck, legs, feet and groin
- ✓ Do not use alone and have naloxone on hand in case of overdose
- ✓ Do not share needles or any works and keep track of what's yours
- ✓ Dispose of needles and syringes safely
- ✓ Use syringe exchange programs to get clean needles in exchange for dirty needles (see reverse for locations)

Amount of a FATAL OVERDOSE of either heroin, fentanyl, or carfentanil.

Naloxone (NARCAN®) SAVES LIVES after an opioid overdose.

HEALTH RISKS OF INJECTING DRUGS

- Damage to skin and veins.
- Bacterial infections of the skin, bloodstream, heart valves, bones, and joints.
- Viral infections: HIV, Hepatitis B, and Hepatitis C.
- Opioid overdose, coma and death stroke, brain damage, heart attack, heart failure, and kidney failure.

ONLY USE NEEDLES ONCE. BLUNT NEEDLE TIPS NOT ONLY DAMAGE SKIN AND VEINS BUT INCREASE THE RISK OF INFECTION.
